GRAND JURY WILL ACT; POISON FOUND IN WOMAN'S BODY

WILL TRY TO DISCOVER IF MRS. WEBB WAS MURDERED.

FIGHT OVER WILL

Three Papers Form Basis of Scramble for Fortune of Millions.

(By Associated Press)

White Plains, N. Y.—Poison has been found in the kidneys of Mrs. Gertrude Gorman Webb, wealthy New York and Philadelphia society woman, and the West Chester county grand jury, it has been announced, will investigate her death in an endeavor to discover if she was murdered.

Relatives of the dead woman have started a contest over the three wills which disposed of her estate, estimated to be worth between $2,000,000 and $5,000,000.

The first will, made before her marriage to Charles Webb on Nov. 4, 1922, left her estate to relatives and to various institutions. The second, executed during her last illness, and composed of only 10 lines, left her entire estate to her husband.

The third and last will, which was made out just before Mrs. Webb's death, left unsigned by her, due to her weakened condition. This last document, which was refused by the surrogate's office on the grounds that an unsigned will could not be accepted even as evidence, left the greater part of the estate to relatives and also established a fund to purchase a monument for the dead woman.

ARMY DRIVE SLOW; NEED $2,000 MORE

It was estimated Thursday morning that members of the advisory committee that the total return from the Salvation Army drive will not exceed $4,500. Cash and pledges in hand Thursday morning totaled $3,173.57. The quota was $5,000.

The committee, which has been working during the solicitation, or who may be willing to increase their donation, may send checks or pledges to the Chamber of Commerce or to William McCue, treasurer, First & National Bank.

Thomas Driscoll, organizer, was unable to return to Janesville in time to the drive this week, on account of an accident in which one of his ankles was severely sprained. He is confined to his home in Milwaukee.

11TH VICTIM IS RECOVERED FROM WRECK

(By Associated Press)

Waukesha, Wis.—The body of W. E. Hendricks, railway mail clerk, was recovered from the Cole creek wreck early Thursday. It was dug from the mail compartment of the combatant mail car. Hendricks is the eleventh victim recovered.

The shifting sands of Cole creek seem to be the Burlington passenger train wreck Thursday night. Wednesday saw up the bodies of five persons who lost their lives when the train crashed through a bridge. Four of them were men and the other a woman.

The body of the woman was found in the Platte river, in a shallow place near the river bank. Its discovery, railroad officials said, bears out the theory that several bodies of the score or more persons who died in the wreck may be found far from the scene.

Can You Cook?

Mrs. Dog can. She can make the fast cakes and pies and bread, just like mother used to do and she decided that in order to make a little extra money she would cook for men who are away from home. She inserted the following little want ad in the Gazette.

STATE SIDE STEPS IN THEATER'S COLLAPSE

A new theory has been advanced as to the primary cause of the collapse of the Saxe Brothers theater, by W. C. Muchlein, engineer of the building department of the Wisconsin Institute of Technology, during his testimony before the coroner's jury investigating the death of Mr. Claude Cochrane in the municipal court here Wednesday afternoon.

Muchlein blamed an inadequate bearing plate and the manner in which the truss was anchored into the floor and piers atop concrete blocks. This is almost direct contradiction of the explanations given by three other witnesses, J. P. Eullen, Harry Summers, Janesville contractors, and F. A. Carpenter, Rockford architect.

At the close of the testimony Wednesday afternoon, the hearing was adjourned until Wednesday evening, Oct. 10. The delay was due to the closing of 1924 unless there is a quick change in the situation, small independent producers, who are now down, will be out of business by winter if the depression in the oil industry continues.

Independent companies spent more drilling wells last year than they received from selling the oil, according to E. W. Marland, president of the Midway Refining Company of New York.

Stomach Taken Out While Patient Has Chat With Surgeon

Buffalo—Chattling from time to time with the man on the operating table, Dr. Hans W. Geissel, of the Mayo Clinic, Vinton, Iowa, former clinic of Buffalo surgeons, today removed the patient's stomach, performed a minor operation on the organ and replaced it.

The operations required nearly two hours, the patient being fully conscious throughout.

Dr. Geissel explained that medical treatment of the solar plexus, deadening the nerve centers, had made unnecessary the use of anesthetic. Physicians examining the patient said he had suffered none of the after effects of shock usual in major operations.

5 MINERS, BURIED ALIVE NINE DAYS IN PIT, RESCUED

(By Associated Press)

Fulkrum, Sectional—Buried alive for nine days, five of the 41 miners entombed by an explosion in a coal pit here were rescued today. They were brought to the surface in fairly good condition and their remarkable survival has raised hopes of the relatives of the other 36 unlocated. Searchers are redoubling their efforts.

The first thing the rescued man asked for was cigarettes. They said all they had to exist on was water after the first day, when the supply of bread ran out. The miners worked when they crawled to a ledge and found a passage where they got a current of air. There they stopped except for occasional trips for water until they were rescued.

Seventy-miners were entombed, but 23 soon escaped through a fissure in the rock. Virtually no hope for the remaining men had been given up.

The miners worked when they crawled to a ledge and found a passage where they got a current of air. There they stopped except for occasional trips for water until they were rescued.

On Tuesday the governor and the state department of mines issued a joint order notifying the 1,300 or more local saloons and cafes to close and dismantle their places within 48 hours. A large force of government agents and state police who served the notices on the proprietors completed their work yesterday under the orders of Governor Frank E. Pinchot, who rounds to see for himself whether the order was being obeyed. He visited half a dozen or more places and found them all doing a flourishing business. The governor made no attempt to make a purchase.

The parents have given up all hope of seeing the child alive again. Unless he was kidnapped, which is not believed likely, the baby could not exist for that length of time without food.

Berlin—With the retirement of Chancellor Stresemann's coalition cabinet, there is talk of the establishment of a civilian dictator, supported by martial law. Dr. Stresemann himself is spoken of in some quarters as well fitted to take over such an office, in view of his experience in economic and financial matters.

Eddyville, Ky.—Thursday's sun swung up over the Lyon county hills to light the scene for a tragic drama, the successive acts of which were being unfolded on probably the strangest stage that ever men were cast to destiny to play upon in Kentucky.

Hemmied in by the grim gray stone walls of the prison area of the western Kentucky state penitentiary, three convict murderers who yesterday killed one guard and wounded three others, one probably fatally, in their attempt to slay their way to freedom, were harbored in a two-story brick dining room between the central structure of the prison plant. NATIONAL SHOW OPENS FRIDAY

World's Greatest Dairy Exhibits and Congress to Be at Syracuse, N. Y.

Syracuse, N. Y.—A comprehensive cross-section of the dairy industry, the great branch of agriculture, will be shown in this city Oct. 5 when the National Dairy Show and "World's Dairy Congress convene."

Emphasis will be placed on the tremendous part the industry plays in national prosperity and welfare; on its economic importance in bringing $2,400,000,000 to the dairy products market annually; on greater stability to agriculture, and on productive methods of still further increasing the industry's stability and prosperity.

Great Cattle Exposition. The exposition will bring together more than 1,300 of the United States and Canadian best dairy cattle; machinery and equipment for dairy farm and dairy factory valued at $3,000,000; 200 of the country's finest horses; the latest scientific facts and discoveries in the relation of milk and its products to human welfare, and scores of educational exhibits for the study of farmers and betterment of their farms.

Distinguished scientists and research specialists, delegates from 40 foreign countries, will deliver addresses dealing with improvement and greater efficiency in farm production, manufacture of dairy products, transportation and marketing. Another important phase taken up in detail will be the vital and essential part played in the winter of man-kind.

Recent discoveries have established the fact that in milk are certain qualities which make it necessary and complete food for humans. It is known to be especially essential for

MRS. RUSSELL IS CHAMPION WOMAN MILKER

More honors for Rock county in the agricultural world came at the Dairy Calf Competition in Waterloo, where Mrs. Harold Russell, Janesville, participated in the annual milking contest for women and won first prize of $10. The time allowed was three minutes and Mrs. Russell milked 13 pounds in that time, or .5 pound more than her nearest competitor who is one of Iowa's best women milkers.

Mrs. Russell, with Mrs. A. G. Russell, was at the exposition taking care of the junior calf, Ormsby Pauline Sylvia, sired by the noted Sir Echo Sylvia, Leeds and owned by A. G. Russell & Son. The calf was entered in the junior-senior class of 500 pounds. The calf placed the calf sixth, thereby ranking 17th above the junior calf that took first place at the Wisconsin state fair in Milwaukee.

Both women returned to their homes in Janesville this week.

STATE SIDE-STEPS THEATER COLLAPSE RESPONSIBILITY

green & Sons company, Milwaukee architects, but which was not 20 feet out. Instead, the wall and plates were built up and a mold left near the top so that a block of concrete 8x18 inches and 28 inches deep was poured in the brick with a top cap of an inch and the bearing plate resting on this block.

It is a significant fact that this theory would more or less shift any criticism or responsibility off the state commission in that the plans, which they approved, without making a detailed check, were not compiled with in detail by the contractor.

Both Muehlstein and E. W. Callen, state men, admitted they had not checked the plans before the crash, not having sufficient men to do this or make adequate inspections of the construction work.

Three contractors or architects and other building men have previously stated that it made little difference whether the designs in the original plans of anchoring in the truss work in brick or putting the truss bearing plate on the concrete were carried out.

The general effect of the theory advanced by the state is to throw the responsibility of the collapse on the state for approving the alleged faulty plans and place it on the person or persons responsible for changing the pillar designs.

Made Investigation.

Muehlstein started his testimony by telling of coming here with R. McKeown, chief engineer and making the examination. He brought along the state's advisory committee of builders and architects, which meets with the state industrial commission on building matters, also inspected the wreck.

Telling of the examination, he made, Muehlstein stated, "The brick and mortar appeared to be good. There was no evidence of insufficient lime in the mortar. The cement work was good and hard. The evidence I obtained showed that there was no failure of the main support of the pent house. There was practically no fracture in the strength of the brick wall, excepting to the concrete wall used to support the floor of the pent house."

The failure started where the truss supporting the pent house was anchored into the west wall. The bearing surface on the wall had been exceeded.

Remained at 28,000 Pounds. It developed that the pent house itself weighed 28,000 pounds and the machinery approximately 14,000

Dougherty." Would you have approved those plans knowing that the pent house was not to have added support?"

"No, I don't think I would have," replied the witness. "I would have made inquiry about it. I would not have approved them. It is my duty to tell the architect what to check the steel work."

Carpenter Testifies.

Emphatic describes the testimony of F. A. Carpenter, Rockford architect and builder, who not only criticized the engineering design of the truss work and bearing plate, but declared that the construction design was seriously at fault. "He had inspected the wreckage and the blue prints after the inspection," said Dougherty.

"The outside walls were not as heavy as they should be," declared the witness. "There were no steel columns. The one truss was over-loaded and had a concentrated load pushing on the east wall, letting the roof down. The weight of the pent house was too much on a truss that was not designed to carry a concentrated but a uniform load."

"The construction work was sound. I know those walls were not sufficient," said Carpenter.

He then explained the engineering rule that the height of a wall divided by its width must be at least 17 inches thick with 2½ inch pilasters. If there had been steel columns in there, it would have held. The brick was not strong enough to carry the roof and truss loads."

"Was there anything to indicate the sole contractor was not doing an honest job?" asked the district attorney.

"No sir, it's all in the books."

COUNCIL ASKED TO MOVE HONOR ROLL

Immediate Taking Down of Board Urgent Hope of American Legion.

Holding that it was erected only as a wartime emblem and that it is now out of date, the Legion has become an object of criticism, the American Legion has passed a resolution asking the city council to cause the immediate removal of the honor roll board in court house park. A committee composed of John W. Gross, Jr., chairman; Robert J. Cunningham and Dr. L. J. Woodworth had been appointed to present a copy of the resolution to the council at its next regular meeting. Monday night.

Following is the legion resolution: "WHEREAS, The honor roll now standing in the court house park in Janesville, Wis., bearing the names of those who gave their services to their country in the world war, was erected in an emergency to honor temporarily those who served in the fighting forces and to serve as a reminder of those services to those who remained at home, and not as a permanent memorial; and WHEREAS, The emergency which caused the erection of the honor roll has ceased to exist, the world war having ended with the armistice, Nov. 11, 1918; and WHEREAS, Numerous men whose names appear on the honor roll gave their lives in the service of their country and are entitled to a more fitting memorial to their sacrifices; and

WHEREAS, the honor roll in its present condition has become the object of criticism as a memorial to the men who served in the world war; and WHEREAS, Various organizations have on occasions proposed the erection of a suitable permanent memorial to take the place of the honor roll; and WHEREAS, the American Legion, representing the men who served in the war, and whose membership includes many of the men whose names appear upon said honor roll, believing that the continued presence of the honor roll does not reflect the gratitude of the public or the true community spirit of the people of Janesville, and is not conducive to a feeling of pride upon the part of the men whose names appear on the said honor roll; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That Richard Ellis post No. 205, in regular meeting assembled, do respectfully petition the honorable city council to immediately cause the removal of said honor roll from the court house park and provide for the disposition of the same by such method or ceremony as they may deem fit; and let it further RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be presented to said city council by committee appointed by the commander of this post at the next regular meeting of said council.

FARMERS OPPOSE U. S. PRICE FIXING

Rock County Men Also State Position on Other National Questions.

"Legislation cannot alone put agriculture in its feet to the proper level," warned Chester Grey, legislator from the 10th Assembly Farm Bureau delegation, during an address to the court house here Wednesday evening. More than 50 farmers attended. Grey is speaking at a series of Wisconsin meetings to explain the Bureau legislative program and obtain their views points.

"Laws are merely a key by which the door can be unlocked and business conducted," he declared.

During the voting the Rock and Green county farmers present were in favor of the truth-in-pricing bill; the Ford tender for "Muscle Shoals" for a national law of crop insurance; favored obtaining of more immigrants from northern Europe; proposed legislation that agriculture inclined, and did not favor government price fixing or a consumption tax or a sales tax.

Favor Deep Waterway

Farmers generally through the United States. It was stated, favor the St. Lawrence deep waterway projected to aid in the marketing of crops and agricultural products to foreign countries at a reduced cost.

The work of the bureau on cooperative marketing has advanced until there is an approved plan, declared Grey. "It is up to the farmers whether they want to develop this form of marketing. The farmer is going to make his profit not by selling, which is the case of the oil and salt on coal but by putting his products in the market in such a manner as to realize a favorable price."

It was declared that since a part of the Muscle Shoals property of the government had been sold off, it was not known whether the project could continue as it was. In the project, however, was interested in the leasing of this water-power system, and plant not alone for cheap fertilizer but for the development of waterways on a basis that would in time cause cheaper power to consumers.

George Hull, Whitewater, state president, and H. O. Natare, Clinton, state president of the Winona County Farm Bureau, had charge of the meeting.

The trolley striking the iron gutters completed a circuit and made a loud cracking noise until it was cut in two by the department. The Franklin street line was crippled throughout the evening.

Rheumatic Agony

NOW EASILY ENDED

It does not matter to me whether you are disabled with cursed rheumatism or have only occasional twinges. I know that Allenruh, my own discovery, will stop the agony, do away with the gnawing pains, and reduce the swollen joints, says Mr. Allen.

I know it will dissolve the uric acid deposits that have become deeply imbedded in joints and muscles and quickly drive every trace of rheumatism from your body. I know this because I was crippled for years and many times was unable to work, and Allenruh made a well, robust, healthy man of me.

I know because since I cured myself hundreds have taken Allenruh and speedily rid themselves of this agonizing disease.

No matter how severe your case, I urge you to put your faith in the prescription that it took me years to perfect—a prescription that made a new man of me after doctors tried and failed.

Allenruh is no laggard; it starts right in at once; it gets into the blood, searches out the poisonous uric acid deposit and in two days starts to drive the uric acid out of the system that causes rheumatism out of the blood through the natural channels.

Through the columns of this newspaper, I authorize every druggist to guarantee one full pint bottle in every instance.

"Princess Pat"SHOES AND OXFORDS

They feel like a million dollars

No matter where you go in this country or any of 102 countries throughout the world you'll see women wearing the Princess Pat model. The thing you'll notice about it first is that wonderfully good-looking outside appearance—the exactly perfect fit of it. It looks so squarely that you want to as the wearer where she bought it. But look alone do not make it so popular all-over the world—it's the comfort women get from wearing it. That's really astonishing. It has a straight inside line—the natural line of the foot. And besides, it has a narrow heel with a wide tread combination, and fits around the ankle as no other shoe ever has.

They come in Brown Kid, Black Kid and Patent Leather. Oxfords, $8.00 and $8.50. Shoes, $9.50 and $10.00.
